Christopher P. Chiodo, MD, Chief of Brigham and Women's Hospital’s Foot and Ankle Division, has been a strong supporter of the educational efforts of the AOFAS and AAOS. He was the Pre-Meeting Course Chair for AOFAS’s Annual Meeting 2013 and has served as a faculty member for regional AOFAS courses.

He joined the AAOS Board Maintenance of Certification Preparation and Review General East Coast course as a faculty member in 2007. He then became the course director in 2013 and served as director in 2014 and 2015.

He has been named board member-at-large for the 2,100-member American Orthopaedic Foot & Ankle Society (AOFAS). Dr. Chiodo will focus his two-year term (through 2017) on supporting the global research and educational efforts of the society.

Dr. Chiodo also is an instructor at Harvard Medical School and a two-term past president of the Massachusetts Orthopaedic Association.

In addition, Dr. Chiodo recently was appointed Deputy Editor of the Journal of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and was selected as one of the top 26 foot and ankle surgeons in North America by Orthopedics This Week.

Finally, Dr Chiodo completed medical school at Harvard Medical School. His residency was at Harvard Combined Orthopaedic Residency Program and Brigham and Women’s Hospital followed by a fellowship at Union Memorial Hospital.
