If you complete 10 or 200 TKAs annually, this course is for you!

UKA, TKA, and revision TKA are demanding procedures requiring precise bone cuts and ligament balancing for an excellent outcome. Choosing the level of constraint in revision TKA and fixation techniques, along with managing bone defects, are key components of this course. Practice these procedures and more with a world-renowned faculty of experts. Lectures and panel discussions include outpatient joint replacement, robotic-assisted surgery, and kinematic alignment.

Course highlights include:

• Unparalleled hands-on practice in the brand-new, state-of-the-art skills lab
• Detailed surgical technique videos of entire procedures performed start to finish
• Pearls for current and controversial TKA procedures, so you can avoid complications and improve clinical outcomes
• 2 on-site industry-sponsored sessions (non-CME)

Who should take this course?

Orthopaedic surgeons who want to learn more about emerging techniques and controversial topics pertaining to partial, primary, and revision knee replacement.

At the conclusion of this course, learners should be able to:

• Formulate a treatment plan considering partial vs. total knee arthroplasty for patients with knee arthritis in one compartment
• Determine and perform appropriate surgical approaches and knee joint exposure options for partial, primary, and revision knee arthroplasty
• Identify and treat complications related to primary and revision total knee arthroplasty, especially acute and chronic periprosthetic knee infections
• Interpret the latest data and recommendations regarding controversial subjects such as outpatient surgery, robotic-assisted surgery, cementless TKA, and bi-cruciate TKA

Let's Discuss: Surgical Site Infections

Wellington K. Hsu, MD, Alex C. McLaren, MD, and Bryan D. Springer, MD, Editors

The first title in the new Let’s Discuss enhanced eBook series is an evidence-based literature review of significant developments, controversial topics, and best practices to manage and prevent surgical site infections. Earn up to 7 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™
